1. The disclosure should be carefully reviewed and ensure that any and all grammatical, idiomatic, and spelling or other minor errors are corrected.

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 19-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Watanabe (U.S. Pat. No. 6,384,551).

With regard to claims 18-21, Watanabe shows a system for charging a battery (4) coupled to an output of a switching power converter (2) comprising all the claimed subject matter such as an ac machine (1) coupled to an input of the switching power converter (4), a connecting means (6, 7) connecting the positive terminal of the charging source to the ac machine (it is noted that the connection is through the switching power converter).

3. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Maehara (U.S. Pat. No. 5,319,299) and Iwatani et al. (U.S. Pat. No. 6,313,613) also disclose charging systems for a battery, each of which comprises substantial elements as recited in the claims of the instant application.
